Andover Guild To Open Year Monday

The Andover Guild will reopen for its new season Monday after an extensive redecorating program in which work has been done in the gymnasium, sitting room and other portions of the interior. Guild programs this year will be tied in with the war effort, all activities being planned with an emphasis on health and patriotism.

The daily schedule will be announced later, as organization and registration will be the only activities next week. Children will be registered every afternoon next week from 3:30 to 5:00, and boys and girls over 14 may register from 7 to 9 every evening. Pre-school children will be registered November 6 from 10 to 12. There will be no change in registration dues from preceding years.

Any organization desiring to use the gymnasium or clubroom this season is asked to get in touch with Miss Florence Davis, supervisor, as soon as possible, so that a complete schedule of activities can be arranged.

Junior High Flies Minute Man Flag

A signal token of its activity in selling war stamps, a large "minute man" flag, issued by the treasury department, is now whipping the breeze in front of the Andover Junior High School. The flag is presented only to schools and businesses which have 90 per cent of their personnel purchasing stamps and bonds regularly.

Already, though school opened less than two months ago, Junior high pupils and teachers have contributed enough in war stamp purchases to buy a jeep, and a miniature replica of a jeep will be sewn on the flag.

The flag had been won once before, last May, but was not obtained in time to be flown before school closed in June.

The new banner was formally raised Friday afternoon, Edward

ANONYMOUS COMPLAINT

The price panel of the local Rationing Board has received several anonymous complaints with reference to overcharges in various stores. The panel warns that these complaints must be in writing and signed by the complainant in fairness to both the retailer and the consumer. The board will not act on anonymous complaints.

Dispute on Meeting Notice Is Decided

School Board Selects New Guidance Head

Something of a teapot tempest was quelled Monday night, when the local school committee, meeting in special session after a previous meeting had been protested, voted to retain the 48-hour notice rule now in effect.

The rule provides that 48 hours notice must be given every member when a special meeting is called, in order that all may so arrange their affairs that they will be able to attend. The member protesting was John M. MacKenzie, who was out of town on business at the time.

Monday night the committee adopted a resolution offered by Jerome W. Cross, Jr., that "at the second meeting of each electoral year, namely, the regular April meeting, the committee shall adopt the rules and regulations for procedure as presented at the annual meeting, with any amendment which the committee desires at that time. It shall be the duty of the chairman to present copies of the rules and regulations for consideration at the annual meeting in March to each member."

Name Trow President Of Historical Society

William A. Trow of Lowell street, Andover's leading authority on the early history of the town, was re-elected president of the Andover Historical society at its annual meeting last Saturday afternoon. Other officers for the coming year will be Miss Fannie Davis, first vice-president; Henry J. Stevenson, second vice-president; John A. Brodhead, secretary; Clifford Marshall, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Abbott, honorary director; Miss Caroline Underhill, Miss Miriam Putnam and Mrs. Mary E. Bancroft, directors for three years.

Mr. Trow announced that, because of the continued lack of fuel, the society's house will be closed this year from November to April. Tribute was paid to members who have passed away: Mrs. J. N. Ashton, Mrs. Henry Barnard, Henry A. Bodwell, Mrs. Frank J. Carlton, Jerome W. Cross, Mrs. Dudley Freeman, Myron E. Guttererson, Isaac Osgood, Alfred L. Ripley, and Mrs. E. Frank Smith. Special mention was made of the services of the late Mrs. Carlton, a charter member and a director for many years,

Register 7783

For Ration Books

Tuesday's Total Highest Despite Torrential Rains

School Supt. Edward I. Erickson, who is directing the registration for Ration Book 4, said this morning that approximately 78 percent of the population of Andover has registered for the new ration book in the first three days. A total of 7,783 have been registered; with more than a thousand boys in service, the population of the town is currently estimated at about 10,000.

Yesterday's registration totals in the various schools were: Pynchard, 1388; Shawsheen, 528; Bradley, 234; West Center, 275; total, 2425. Monday's total registration was 2152, Tuesday's, 3206, the highest day's total despite the heavy rains on that day.

According to Mr. Erickson, the rationing work has proceeded very smoothly, and the teachers have been able to handle it competently and quickly. The public is reminded that today is the last day for registration; person whose surnames begin with the letters S through Z, and all who have not already registered, should report at one of the schools listed above. If the new books are not obtained by the deadline, 8 tonight, there will be quite a delay before they are obtainable.

New Dramatic Society Plans First Offering

The new dramatic group being formed in Andover, which has had two preliminary meetings so far, will meet again Monday evening at 8:00 in Memorial Hall library. All persons interested in dramatics are urged to affiliate themselves with the society, at present the only such organization in town. Not only actors, but makeup workers, stage-managing and prop crews, and all other personnel necessary to the production of plays are invited to attend Monday's meeting.

A tentative executive committee has already been formed, and includes Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young, Miss Maroy Dunn, Miss Minnie Valentine, Miss Antoinette Thiras and Rev. Frank E. Dunn.

No definite plans have been made yet for the group's first production, except that it will probably be staged sometime this winter.

A 29-year-old Boston man was reported "resting comfortably" at Lawrence General hospital this noon, following a spectacular accident in which he was hurled fully 20 feet in the air when struck by a passing motorist on Route 28, near Gould road, yesterday afternoon about 2:15.

The man, John Tanzi of 6 Organ Park street, Roslindale, was brought to the hospital yesterday afternoon and found to be suffering a severe fracture of the shoulder as well as a broken left arm, elbow and collarbone. He is not on the danger list.

The relatively minor extent of his injuries was considered almost miraculous by a companion of Tanzi's, Thomas C. Sullivan of 322 Hyde Park avenue, Jamaica Plain, who, while he did not see Tanzi hit, saw his inert form hurtled into the air a split second later. "I'm sure he was thrown to a height three times that of the car itself," he remarked afterwards. In addition, the collision shattered the windshield of the vehicle and dented the hood.

The car involved in the accident was driven by George Gordon of 48 Brown street, Brookline. As reported to State Trooper Julian Zuk, who is investigating the accident, Sullivan's car, proceeding north, was stopped by motor trouble near Gould road, and Tanzi crossed the street to a nearby house to borrow a screwdriver. As he returned across the street he was hit by Gordon's car, a light coupe.

Sullivan was working on his own car at the time, and did not see the actual contact, and Gordon was unable to give any cause for the accident, as he did not see the man, he stated, until the moment of collision. Trooper Zuk planned to interrogate Tanzi early this afternoon to determine how the accident occurred.

Russian Journalist at Phillips

Russian born Nila Magidoff, wife of NBC's Moscow newscaster Robert Magidoff, will speak at Phillips Academy (George Washington Hall) Sunday afternoon at 4 on: "The New Russia." Admission will be by contribution of one of the following items for Russian war relief: soap, cigarettes, surgical supplies, sewing supplies, articles of clothing, canned goods. In return for these goods, Mme Magidoff is giving her lecture free of charge.

Since arriving in the U. S. a little over a year ago, Mme. Magidoff has been touring the country in the interest of her countrymen. She has given over 200 talks, many of them in churches. One of her most touching experiences, she said recently, was when Father Ohann Tarasovich gave her a small crucifix after her appearance in his Russian Orthodox church in Chicago, and promised to pray daily for the safety and success of the Red army.

Mme. Magidoff is a first hand authority on Soviet Russia, having grown up there and taken part in many of its activities. One of the most exciting of these was when she led a riding expedition of young people some years ago into the wilds of one of the back woods republics in order to bring the rudiments of modern education and hygiene to its inhabitants. In Moscow she was a student of literature at the University of Moscow, then a writer on the staff of the Literary Gazette, later an associate editor of the Journal de Moscou.

In addition to her other work, Mme. Magidoff used to help her husband write his dispatches from Russia, digesting over 50 Russian newspapers per day for her husband's help. During the war, before she left Russia for the U. S. she was an air raid warden in Moscow, built sandbag defenses and helped guard against incendiaries during raids.

Mme. Magidoff has appeared on the same platform with former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, Mme. Litvinoff, Lady Marley, and many other notables.

PUNCHARD NOTES

The Varsity Club is planning its first event of the year, a "Dad's Day" to be held November 6. Punchard plays Tewksbury in the afternoon and the fathers of the boys who play in the game will be honored with seats on the bench. They will wear numbers on their backs corresponding to those of their sons. In the evening of the same day, at 8:00, a dance, also in their honor, will be held in the gymnasium with music by Harold Phinney. Mr. McKiniry is in charge of the day's events.

This week, due to rationing, school is dismissed at 11:15. Pupils are attending classes in their regular order, but only four each day.

November 9 Punchard is having an open house, which all parents are invited to attend. The plan is to run through a normal day's program of seven periods, each about ten minutes in length. Educational movies will be shown in the auditorium at the conclusion of the seven periods.

Definite plans have been made for a dance by the class of 1945, on November 12; the price is 30 cents, tax included; the dance will last from 8:00 to 11:30. The social committee headed by Audrey Nowell is in charge.

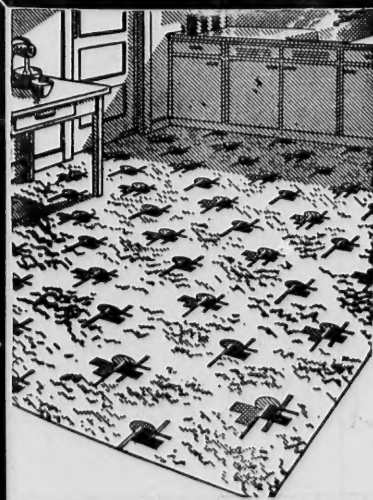

Legion Poppy Day To Benefit Child Welfare

The annual poppy day of Andover Post No. 8, American Legion, will be held a week from Saturday. Legionnaires will be on the streets with poppies in their efforts to raise funds to carry their extensive welfare program for the coming year. Much is being done to assist the men now in service and returning from service and demands on this organization will greatly increase as time goes on.

The local post has established a fine child welfare committee and has made every effort to see to it that every child in Andover needing care, hospitalization or attention of any sort pertaining to health or well-being is assisted and cared for.

The Department of Massachusetts has commended the Andover post for its excellent endeavors in this field. The work is made possible to a great extent by the sale of poppies prior to Armistice Day every year.

The post also maintains a rehabilitation committee which has taken over duties pertaining to veteran cases of the present war, and will continue to assist all these cases now and after the war, if there is such a necessity. The purchase of a poppy on November 6 makes the buyer a part of a great Legion welfare program.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

Paul S. McDonald, 21, son of Mr. Bernard L. McDonald of 8 Chestnut street, was recently assigned to the Naval air training center, Pensacola, Fla., for intermediate flight training. Prior to entering the Naval service, he attended Tufts College for three years.

Upon completion of the intensive course at the "Annapolis of the Air," Cadet McDonald will receive his Navy "Wings of Gold" with the designation of naval aviator, and will receive his commission.

Paul has three brothers in service, Bernard, Jr., in the Army, Walter in the AAF and Robert in the Navy.

AT EASE!

One of the most interesting things we have yet come across in our dealings with servicemen is the fact that Pvt. Mario Fischer-Galati of Main street is now at Fort Benning, Ga. What's interesting about that is that Mario came to this country only three years ago from Rumania, a country with which we're now at war, and has picked about the toughest of all Army branches for his service — the paratroops....He has dropped us a line asking whether we know of any Andover boys at Fort Benning, and we can think of half a dozen of them — Tommy Brennan, Tom Frain, Irvin Hilton, and, all in the same outfit, Frank Foss, F. W. Botsch and L. E. Cronier.

WOUNDED IN ACTION

Pvt. William Lane, son of the Lewis Lanes of High Plain road, was wounded in action somewhere in the South Pacific area on or about August 21, according to word received by his parents. Pvt. Lane was reported hit by shrapnel from a Japanese shell, and has been hospitalized. Pvt. Lane holds medals in pistol, rifle and sub-machinegun marksmanship. He received his recruit training in the Marines at Parris Island and New River, and was sent to San Diego last March.

Out at Camp Ellis, Ill., these days is Pvt. Andy Jackson, who works in the station hospital there.

Ensign Jack Sheehy, of Argilla road, in Florida these many months, has been transferred to a scouting squadron somewhere overseas. He's one of four brothers in service.

Pvt. Bradley Stevens, a detective with the famous Pinkerton agency before re-entering service, is now with the Marines, and has been assigned to duty at the post service battalion office at Quantico. He had just moved to Andover last year, and his wife, Mrs. Flora Stevens, is now residing at the Aberdeen apartments....Brad had served four years in the Marine corps, earning his good conduct medal, before re-enlisting at Boston August 20.

Two Naval aviation cadets from Andover have reported to the Navy pre-flight school at Athens, Ga., for three months of intensive physical toughening and instruction in advanced ground school subjects. They're Andy Lindsay of 6 Argyle street, Shawsheen, and Dan Donovan of Andover street, B'vale.

Cpl. John P. Jones of the Marines is now with a "joint assault signal company" at "little Andover," that is, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Did we ever mention that Pvt. Alyre "Hank" Godin of Pearson street is at Camp Sibert, Ala?

Sgt. Gus Gallant is a member of the Andover contingent at Maxwell Field, Ala. Lt. Lucy Gallant is serving overseas in the Pacific area in the Army nurse corps.

Al Groleau of Corbett street is with a coast artillery headquarters battery (anti-aircraft) at Camp Haan, Calif. Another anti-aircraft artilleryman, Tommy Harris, is at Camp Stewart, Ga.

Jim Sweeney, chief bosun's mate, is located on a destroyer in Atlantic waters.

Pfc Ed Fraize is now in an engineer battalion at Camp Pickett, Va.; his outfit has been on the move so much in the past two months, he writes, that it's been impossible to send along an address that would be correct for any length of time.

S1/c Allen P. Dea writes from the Middle East that "I will be glad to get out of this place and on my way; at least no other place could be so bad. This place is supposed to be 800 years behind the times. There is an army base here and they are really sticking it out better than you would expect."

Cadet Gib Hamlin of Shawsheen, former Punchard football star, is holding the line at Bush Field in Augusta, Ga.

Also in Georgia, at Fort Benning's basic training center, is Pvt. Johnny Ashburn.

Cpl. Charlie Regan is now located at the Army air base at Tucson, Arizona.

Oakley Melendy, former coach at Phillips and a well-known athlete in his own right, is with an Army student training unit in New York City.

Pvt. Bunny Manning, who's been attending Ordnance school at Camp Santa Anita, Calif., has been transferred to Camp Bowie, Texas.

GET WORD FROM PRISONER

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Stocks of South Main street this week got the first news of their son, Pfc John Stocks, since he was first revealed to be a prisoner of war in Germany early last Spring. Two cards were received by them, indisputably from their son, stating only that he is in good health.

The Stocks' have another son, Robert, at present serving with the Army in England.

Congrats to Johnny O'Hagan of Baker lane, whose promotion to sergeant has been announced at headquarters of the anti-aircraft artillery school at Camp Davis, No. Car. Johnny's one of four O'Hagan brothers in the Army.

Two local boys have reported at Keesler Field, Miss. — Pvt. Jim Paparella, son of the James Paparellas of 68 Elm street, and Pvt. Johnny Monroe, whose parents are the John S. Monroes of 20 Baker lane. After 28 days at Keesler, the boys will be sent to college for five months of further work preparatory to becoming air cadets.

Sgt. Charlie Lang, now with an infantry unit in Australia, writes that he's getting the Townsman, though "a little late." He likes Australia, though the money system "had me stumped for a while. The customs are a lot different, and some are not understandable to us....I'm operating radios and like it very much, but still want to get back to Andover. There's no place like the old homestead. When I read about the furloughs the home town boys are getting it makes me homesick just to think of it."

Sgt. Mary Finno writes local friends from Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., that she's now supply sergeant in a training regiment. She reports it's a real job to supply 183 WACs with summer clothing, and this week she starts passing out the ODs. Besides that, the WACs are testing special gas-protective clothing, and Mary's responsible for that, too....She has received her green and gold service ribbon for having six months service, and service under the WAAC before it was made a part of the regular Army.

Lt. (Jg) John Warden, still in Texas, at Eagle Pass, was home on a three-day leave recently.

Mrs. Mary Edmands of Chestnut street is at present stopping at the home of her son, Lt. Com. Allan C. Edmands, in Long Beach, Calif. Husky Edmands, her younger son, was recently promoted to full lieutenant. He's also on the Pacific coast somewhere, but hasn't been able to get down to see his mother yet.

Pete Myers, MM1c, is now with the SeaBees at their base depot at Gulfport, Miss.

Pvt. Tom Duff of Abbott village, who used to be one of the Greeley store's drivers, is reported to have gone overseas. He was formerly at the Army air base at Topeka, Kansas.

Pvt. Johnny McMahon is stationed at the ordnance depot at Atlanta, Georgia.

John B. Nunez, who last week took as his bride Miss Joyce M. Curran of Andover, was commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve October 20 after completing his 15-week V-7 training course at the New York USNR midshipmen's school. He was one of fourteen honor men in his class, and was awarded the Naval Order Watch for excellence in damage control. The latter presentation was made at the regimental review on the preceding Monday.

From the U. S. Maritime Service officers' school at Fort Trumbull, outside New London, Conn., comes word that Gilbert "Pete" Sorenson of 2 Burnham road has enrolled as an officer candidate there. Pete's studying in an intensive course in engineering, and expects to take an exam in December for his license as third assistant engineer. He has a brother, Ivan, in service with the Army; his father, Neil Sorenson, is now living in Los Angeles.

Carter's Corner

Pvt. Tom Ryan is home on a 15-day furlough from his present station in Los Angeles, Calif. His brother John, who is married to the former Miss Mary Wolfendale, has just been upped to technical sergeant in the signal corps at Fort Monmouth, N. J. The boys are the sons of Mrs. Mary Ryan.

Pfc Leo Gallant has been laid up for several weeks at the station hospital at Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

Pvt. Reggie Gallant spent several days at home this week, on leave from Greensboro, N. C.

Cpl. Ivan Myers, stationed somewhere in North Africa, has written home that he recently received a bunch of Townsmans and had quite a time going through them.

S. Sgt. Ed Gaudet has been transferred from Dale Mabry Field in Tallahassee to the Army air base at Venice, Fla.

West Parish

Cpl. Roland Couture of Camp McCain, Miss., is enjoying a ten-day furlough with the folks, the Ernest Coutures of Lowell street.

Albert Batchelder of the Navy has been promoted to signalman 2c.

O. C. Alfred Shea of Fort Benning, Ga., is visiting with Mrs. Shea, the former Nancy Thomas of Lowell street.

The Servicemen's Page is prepared by the Townsman editors with the active assistance of the Servicemen's Fund Association.

The Townsman is sent each week, free of charge, to every local serviceman by the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company. We shall appreciate receiving up-to-the-minute addresses for all Andover men and women in service, in order that our mailing list may be kept accurate.

Urge Public To Mail Christmas Gifts Early

The local postoffice this week issued to the public an urgent reminder that Christmas gifts must be mailed in November if they are to reach their recipient in time for the holiday. The heavy rush of servicemen's overseas mail was competently handled during the period preceding October 15, but the Christmas civilian mail is expected to be heavier than ever before.

An official bulletin from the Post-office Department in Washington states that "there can be no assurance, in view of the unavoidable handicaps of war, that gifts and cards mailed in the weeks immediately preceding Christmas will be delivered on time. Such matter must not impede the movement of war materials and personnel and military mail."

The bulletin further points out that "the number of railway cars and airplanes available for handling Christmas mail is far below that of former years. Facilities simply are not available to deliver, in the last three weeks before Christmas, the tremendous quantities of mail that we heretofore moved in that period."

"More than 30,000 postal employees have gone into the armed forces. They have been largely replaced with less experienced personnel... 200,000 temporary employees are now in the armed forces and war industries."

"The war has dislocated the Christmas mailing season. This year, November is the time for mailing Christmas gifts and cards. Gifts may be marked, 'Do not open until Christmas.'"

Local postoffice officials have also pointed out that Christmas cards mailed unsealed, with 1½ cent stamps, cannot be forwarded, since they are third-class mail. The public is strongly urged to use two cents postage on local cards, three cents on out-of-town mail, in order that the missives may be as certain of delivery as mail is at other times in the year.

TO TEACH AT TUFTS

Thomas P. Dea, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Dea of Summer street, has been appointed an instructor in mathematics at Tufts college, his duties there beginning November 1. He was recently graduated with honors from Tufts after being on the dean's list for four years, and took his B.A. degree.

He is a graduate of Phillips academy with the class of 1940. Miss Ethel Howell of Central street and Mrs. Philip Liggett of Ogden, Utah, with his parents and brothers, attended the commencement exercises.

KING'S DAUGHTER NOTES

Miss C. Madeleine Hewes presided at the Essex County King's Daughter and Son convention held last week in Boston. The Courteous Circle of the South church had 15 members present at the session, the report of the Circle being read by Miss Florence I. Abbott. The Junior Circle was represented by Mrs. Henry Stevenson, senior advisor, who announced that the Juniors now boast a membership of 65.

Morning devotions at the meeting were impressively given by Mrs. Harold Hathaway of Shawsheen. Fourteen Circles were represented in the convention.

Andover District Fall Meeting

The Andover District of the Woman's Department, Mass. Congregational Conference and Missionary society, will hold its fall meeting next Thursday at All Souls church, Lowell. Miss Madeleine Hewes and Miss Fannie E. Davis will represent Andover in the day's speaking program.

Dr. D. Brewer Eddy will speak on "The World of the Future," and Mrs. Margaret G. Ensminger on the work at South Union college. Rev. Raymond A. Dudley will discuss his mission experiences.

The meeting will open at 10:30, with Mrs. Charles W. Keirstead of Lawrence presiding.

Only $1,600 Lacking In War Fund Campaign

A "flying squadron" has been formed to endeavor to beat the deadline in this year's United War Fund by 6:00 tonight, when a "victory dinner" will be held, Roy E. Hardy, local chairman, announced this morning. The town is only $1,600 short of its goal. That goal, announced last week as $20,150, has since been cut to $19,400, due to an allocation of some of the larger special gifts to other towns.

The town will be thoroughly covered by the flying squadron today, and Mr. Hardy expects that the full $19,400—a substantially larger quota than that of last year's Community Chest campaign—will have been realized by nightfall.

Jan Smeterlin To Give All-Chopin Recital Here

The advance sale of tickets indicates a large attendance at the concert to be given in George Washington hall tomorrow night by Jan Smeterlin, famous Polish pianist and unsurpassed interpreter of the music of Chopin. His varied program will be composed completely of selections from the works of the brilliant Polish composer.

A few tickets are still available; they may be purchased at the ticket office in George Washington hall, or at the door tomorrow evening.

Smeterlin, born in Bielsko, Poland, was given piano instruction at the age of 6. By the time he was 8, he had progressed so far that he was invited to play a Beethoven concerto with the local orchestra. In early manhood, he had become so proficient that he was sent to Berlin and London, and was soon widely known throughout the continent. He first came to this country in 1930, and has made annual tours since, as well as appearing with a number of the major symphony orchestras.

He is recognized as one of the most brilliant interpreters of Chopin. He is also a staunch supporter of the modern school, and has given first performances of numerous works by such composers as Dukas, Ravel, Albeniz and Szymanowski.

History in Prints Shown at Addison

An exhibition entitled "News in Prints" is now showing at the Addison Gallery of American Art, and continues through November 22. About 80 engravings and lithographs as well as a number of photographs are included, illustrating major events in American history. Photographs are included, since they have, since the turn of the century, at least, taken the place of the prints and lithographs which used to illustrate accounts of daily happenings.

The show was worked out in collaboration with the history classes of Phillips academy, and so should be of particular interest to high school students as well as the adult public.

CONCERT BY ADRIAN TWINS

Shahan and Nahan Adrian, 11-year-old twins, will be featured soloists at a concert sponsored by the Pianoforte Teachers of Greater Lawrence, to be given November 7 at 4:00 in the Oliver school hall, Lawrence. The youngsters, who have been taught by their mother since they were five years old, will offer a diversified program of piano music.

Members of the committee in charge are Miss Alexander, president; Mrs. John R. Hosking, committee chairman; Miss Mary Langan, organist at St. Augustine's church; Mrs. Milton Stahl, and Edwin G. Booth, former music director at the Free church.

Attend Restaurant Conference

Andrew Crotty and Miss Sally Bodwell of Andover attended the second war-time conference of the National Restaurant Association in Cleveland last week. Both are also directors of the Massachusetts Restaurant Association. Mr. Crotty was also co-chairman at a dinner meeting for industrial restaurant operators.

A Guest Editorial

By LAWRENCE J. BRESNAHAN
State OPA Director

Watch out for counterfeit gasoline coupons! Hundreds of them already have been "passed" for ration currency in western Massachusetts. Now, more of them are being sprinkled around eastern Massachusetts.

Most of the fake coupons in circulation to date have been the "A-6" variety. And almost all officials who have seen the counterfeits agree that it doesn't take a Sherlock Holmes or a super-detective to recognize them. In fact, the phoney coupons are not a good imitation of the real thing, chiefly because the background design on government printing paper cannot be duplicated.

The counterfeits also are inferior to the genuine coupons because of (1) lighter color, (2) fussier design, (3) poorer type face, and (4) obviously cheaper quality of paper. Almost anyone handling gasoline coupons for a year or more should be able to tell the fake coupons at a glance, and yet they were being circulated freely until the recent exposure and crack-down in the western part of the State helped curb this illegal traffic.

Because of the seriousness of the situation, every patriotic motorist and every law-abiding gasoline dealer should be acquainted with the true facts.

Many times, when the OPA has an investigation underway, the findings cannot be publicized until formal action is taken by the U. S. Attorney's office. But, in this particular case, the OPA is at liberty to talk. And it does talk because it wants to protect honest motorists and dealers against the unscrupulous purveyors of counterfeit coupons.

To be on the safe side, every motorist should follow this cardinal rule: Never accept gasoline coupons from an "unofficial" source. Use only the coupons issued to you by your local rationing board. Motorists who follow this advice can help the OPA wipe out the newest and most dangerous gasoline racket.

disease, a fungus which is spreading into this section from a beach-head near New York City." An invading army of Dutch elm bacilli, or whatever you'd call them, is described as "concentrating its forces for a drive eastward across Massachusetts."

There are a number of things that irk us about the statement, one of them being the implication that all the elm trees in New England, French elms, English elms, and all, are being infected by the Dutch elms. We believe the Dutch elms are as good as any other kind, and we don't like the snobbish attitude adopted by other trees whose seedlings happened to come over in the Mayflower.

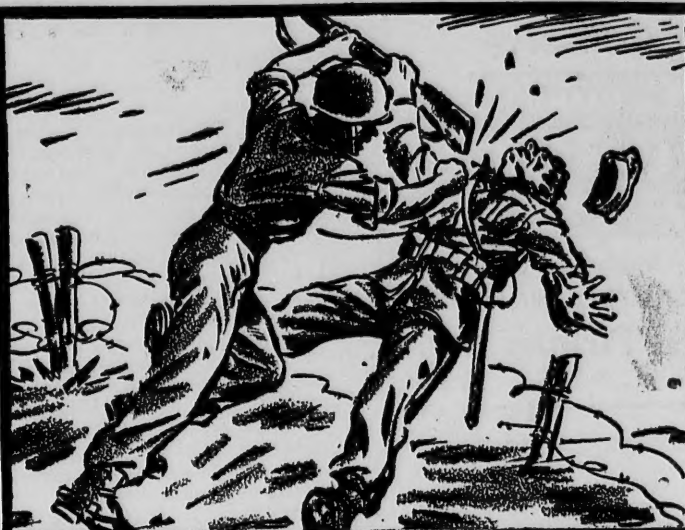

But what chiefly annoys us is the military terminology. The woodpeckers are "drafted," the fungus has established a "beach-head," and is "concentrating its forces for a drive eastward across Massachusetts." (If the fungus is driving clear across the state, it and the race-track fans are the only creatures we know able to do that sort of driving.) Oh, lay that pistol down!

Military terminology should be kept for military subjects; we have too many people nowadays who like to call dinner "mess," who drive to club meetings in a "convoy," and who dress in "mufti." If the Dutch elm fungi are coming this way, let them be blown by the wind, or carried around by bees, or however they used to travel before the war started. If they insist on "concentrating their forces," we'd rather they'd turn around and go back to New York, and good enough for them. Lay that pistol down, Babe!

We're sorry to have Babe, the Pistol-Packing Mama, intruding so often in the above persiflage, but the fact is that we haven't been able to get Pistol-Packing Mama out of our head all week. We wake up in the morning and come down to breakfast singing how Mama "cursed and cried and said I'd lied and wished that I was dead." We come home to dinner singing how Mama hit me over the head. And at supper, we may be found still faintly moaning, "Oh, lay that pistol down."

All we can say is, if Mama hasn't laid her pistol down after all this counsel, she must be a remarkably stubborn woman.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

This last week the Minute Man flag was flown and we hope to keep it flying the entire year with a 90 percent purchase of war stamps from the entire school. In the school year 1942-43 approximately $5,000 in war stamps was purchased. With this money we bought a jeep ($900), a machine gun ($500), three depth bombs, some Navy life belts, and several small bombs. Over $1000 has been invested in stamps and bonds so far this year. A $400 hospital operating table for the Navy has been purchased and the remaining $600 has been set aside for the purchase of a $2500 glider.

Due to rationing, there has been only a half-day session each day. The schedule has been arranged so that these sessions comprise three complete days' schedules.

There are three new students in school: Marjorie Harshaw, Grade 8, from Maryland; Philip Wainwright, Grade 7, from New Jersey; and Joseph Mirisola, Grade 8, from Boston.

Marjorie Paine is in charge of the book week exhibit and Lee Peck and Marion White are in charge of the book week play. There is a book plate contest on for a book plate for school volumes. Some original designs are expected.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

James Everett Collins, 35 Summer street, and Mary Louise Irwin, 15 Stratford road.

Van Herbert Babb, 19 Corbett street, and Bertha E. Merkel, 27 Corbett road, Lawrence.

Alumni Plan Big Rally

Fresh from a gratifying triumph in its initial appearance of the season, a barn dance that drew an attendance of over 300 last Friday night in the Memorial auditorium, the Punchard alumni association is now planning a pre-Methuen game rally on the eve of Armistice Day.

At a meeting Tuesday night, Walter Pearson, president, presiding, the group made tentative plans for an assembly of the students and alumni in front of the town hall November 10 at 7:30, and a parade to the Memorial auditorium. In view of the abandonment of the dimout, announced yesterday, it may be possible to have a torch-light parade.

Cheers, songs, and brief fight talks by the coaches and other persons connected with the team and school will form the program of the rally. William A. Doherty, chairman of the rally committee, has a plan for a special feature under consideration, which, if added to the program, should evoke widespread interest.

OPENS SEASON MONDAY

The November club will open its new season Monday afternoon at 3:00, when the dramatic department will furnish the afternoon's program in presenting a short play. Members are also reminded that Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor's first lecture will be given next Wednesday morning at 9:45.

FINE BOND RECORD

The local War Bond Committee announces that official figures have just been received from state headquarters indicating that the State of Massachusetts exceeded its quota of all bonds sold by 11.6 percent, and its quota of E. Bond sales was 79.7 percent realized. Corresponding percentages for the town of Andover were 60 percent and 94 percent respectively.

COMMUNICATIONS

To Friends of the Christmas Seal Sale:

Christmas Seal plans are progressing rapidly; some have already bought seals in their eagerness to have a share in the work.

An all-day meeting will be held Tuesday morning at 10 at my home to fill the envelopes and get them in the mails in plenty of time to be in your homes November 20. Please be generous and prompt in your response. For more and more friends of the Christmas Seal sale—

This Sober Town

In the press of a number of other matters, we forgot to mention that the issue of October 14 was the first of our 56th year. A lady told us last year that we've been a year behind for a good while now; that is, that we're beginning our 57th season instead of our 56th. We presume she's right, but since the original mistake was made several years ago, we couldn't do anything about it now without getting into a mess of trouble.

At any rate, 56 — or 57 — years is a good long while, and, like it or not, the Townsman is evidently here to stay. We're older than the Chicago Sun, than the New York Herald-Tribune, than the Boston Daily Record, than PM and a dozen other periodicals of varying repute. We say older, mind you; there are a few prejudiced and small-minded people in town who say we're not quite as good. Well, give us a little more time — 50 years ought to do it.

Oh, lay that pistol down!

In some of our mail from the lunatic fringe this week comes a bulletin that "woodpeckers are being drafted into the fight to save the elm trees of New England from being destroyed by the Dutch elm

Turkey Facts

The recent news published in the newspapers and over the radio about the government releasing Turkey for sale to the public has caused so many requests for Turkeys that we spent almost a whole day getting all the facts about Turkeys.

There will be no Turkeys released until after Nov. 8th. Dealers like ourselves will get one-third of what we had last year. We are giving you the facts as we find them.

We have commenced to take orders for Turkeys; remember the old saying, "the early bird gets the worm." In this case, the early Turkey buyer will get her Turkey.

League of Women Voters Peace Plan Study Group

The first meeting of the League of Women Voters for the year 1943-1944 was held recently at the Andover Inn. Lunch was served to 76 women.

Mrs. Henry G. Tyer, president, gave a word of greeting. Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin, legislative chairman, asked the members to support the Magnuson bill, which would repeal the Chinese Exclusion Act, which puts Chinese immigration on a quota basis admitting 105 each year. Mrs. Robert W. Sides, chairman of war time service, announced that the policy of the League this year would be to reach more people than ever before, and to induce them to think constructively about American foreign policy and post-war peace plans. She explained a plan which the League board has worked out to accomplish this end.

Miss Miriam Putnam introduced Dr. Leonard Cronkhite, secretary and trustee of the World Peace Foundation, who spoke on "International cooperation—its sacrifices and advantages." Dr. Cronkhite said that the peoples of the world have one thing in common and that is to prevent war from recurring. He urged a realistic approach to world peace based on the plans of the United Nations organization because they have already been set up. There must be international laws, he said, which will prohibit aggression in the future. A lively question period followed.

There will be a League Study Group series of meetings for all those who are interested in studying the various proposed peace plans. The first of the four meetings will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Memorial Hall library. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

Use Gas Wisely!

Gas is Vital to War Production

Gas, so vital to America's homemakers, is a vital fuel for war production, too. In hundreds of ways it is helping to turn out armaments. Saving gas saves oil and coal as well, and eases the burden of wartime transportation.

SAVE GAS TO SAVE FUEL

Follow these suggestions by the WAR PRODUCTION BOARD—

DON'T USE THE GAS RANGE OVEN TO HEAT YOUR KITCHEN

Use a low blue flame for cooking. Use little water for vegetables. Cook more "one-dish" meals. Keep burners clean.
Place utensil on burner before lighting. Turn gas off before removing utensil. Don't overcook foods. Lower flame when liquids start to boil. Avoid oven peeking.

was admitted to be perfectly justified, since the 48-hour rule has been in effect for some time. He was supported by a sufficient number of members so that the meeting could be held over. No amendments are ever made to the committee's rules and regulations until after the matter has lain over a month, and then when ratified by a two-thirds vote.

The purpose of the original meeting, finally fulfilled Monday night, was to elect a director of guidance in the high school to succeed Edward C. Manning, who has entered service. Named to the post at a salary of $2200 was Arthur J.
Dows of Dennis, an elementary school principal there.

Mr. Dows has an excellent professional background. He has done a good deal of guidance work at Medford, Taunton and Providence high schools, was an elementary school principal in Providence, R.
I., and was formerly registrar and teacher at Worcester academy.

He is a graduate of Lowell high school, and received his A.B. and A.M. degrees from Brown in 1919 and 1923. He has completed two-thirds of his work towards an Ed.D. degree at B. U., and was a teaching fellow at Brown in the year 1919-1920.

The committee also renominated
Alfred R. Harris, Jr., of Washington avenue, for the Cornell scholarship to Phillips academy, awarded annually to an Andover boy.

Harris was named unanimously in accordance with a recommendation by G. Grenville Benedict, P. A. registrar. It was suggested that hereafter the scholarship be awarded in such a manner that a boy could hold it throughout his Phillips career, but the committee voted to continue awarding it on a year-to-year basis, since it is committee policy never to commit the board to any course from which it would be impossible for a future committee to withdraw.

Miss Evelyn Banning, Mrs. Kath-

Sessions Wednesday will begin at 9:30, 2:00, and a dinner meeting at 6:00. A mass meeting will be held at 8:00. The speakers will include Dr. Mary E. Wooley, president emeritus of Mount Holyoke college, and Dr. George A. Buttrick of New York, former president of the Federal Council.

It is hoped that all churches in this area will be fully represented. Anyone desiring to go and in need of transportation should get in touch with his own minister.

BALLARDVALE

Active Social Week

Mrs. Norman Ellis, the former Barbara Parker of Clark road, was pleasantly surprised Friday evening, when a shower was held at the home of her sister, Mrs. William McColl of Moraine street. She opened her presents under a patriotic basket that streamed confetti on her.
Mrs. Ellis will make her home at present with her mother, Mrs. Michael Mullaney.

A farewell party was held Saturday evening honoring Eugene Murphy, who leaves shortly for maritime service training. Many friends and relatives were present.

Among the Clubs

The ways and means committee of the Ballardvale P. T. A. will hold a Thanksgiving whist party in the community room November 22.
Many Thanksgiving prizes will be awarded. Tickets are obtainable from George Brewster and his committee.

The November P. T. A. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs.
James Schofield. Rev. Elton E.
Smith will be the speaker at the meeting, taking as his subject the new religious education program in the public schools. The public is invited to attend. All meetings this winter will be at members' homes because of the fuel situation.

Tickets are now on sale for the "Hayshaker Minstrels," to be presented November 18 and 19 in the community rooms. Miss Margaret Madley is directing the chorus and Clyde Mears the end-ladies. There will be many specialties. Mrs. Stearney Cormey is chairman of the committee in charge, and Mrs.
James Schofield of tickets.

The newly-formed Junior choir will assist the Senior choir in a vesper service Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in the Union Congregational church, as the first of a series to be held during the winter.

SPEAKS ON SHAWLS

Mrs. Frank L. Brigham of Punchard avenue, prominent local club-woman, is delivering her popular lecture, "Shawls of Many Lands," twice this week, yesterday before the Boston Colony of the National Society of New England Women, and next Monday before the Quota club of Lawrence.

BUTTON, BUTTON

A good many servicemen's parents sport buttons in their lapels with a star representing each of their sons in the armed forces. But when John Deyer-mond set out to buy a couple for himself and his wife a few weeks ago, he found he had a bit of a problem on his hands. For the Deyermonds have six boys in service, and the stores naturally don't have buttons with that many stars on them.

Mr. Deyermont took his problem to John Grecoe, local jeweler, who sent along a letter to a wholesale house asking if, by chance, it might have buttons bearing as many as six stars.
Sure enough, the firm did, and the buttons arrived Monday. Mr.
Grecoe refused to take any money for the transaction, reasonably assuming that he won't be called on to handle a like one for quite a while.
